Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) is the rating system developed by the United States Green Building Council. The USGBC is the recognized industry standard for sustainable construction practices. The LEED rating system provides a framework to assist your organization’s goal of minimizing building energy and water use, which reduce environmental impacts and increases the indoor environmental quality for the occupants.

LEED Rating System Experience:

- LEED NC
- LEED EBOM
- LEED CI
- LEED for HOMES
- LEED CS
